Dear Jim:

Saturday will be fine. We'll be delighted to see you. I haven't yet checked with my father, but I presume he will be in town next weekend.

If you have time, drop me a note as to when you will arrive. I'll plan to have my mother and father over for dinner Saturday night, and we can talk then. Or if you prefer -- and if you arrive early enough -- we can talk earlier and have a larger group over for cocktails or something. Let me know if you have any preference.

I'm looking forward to your visit. Plan to stay longer if you can.

Cordially,

John
